Chapter 1 by Feyre Archeron

Change has happened in everybody's life. It might not be a good change, but it might be the best for you. I have had so many and way to many bad changes and just changes that have effected my life in a big way. I didn't always like the changes that were happening but I adapted.

When change happens, don't worry too much because if you stress over change, you will get nowhere in life, because you can't get over a little change that's normal. Change is normal for everybody. Sometimes the change is moving to a new home, or changing schools.

Change also may be when you move into foster care, where you have to live with people you don't know, and that's a big change. I know. Because it's happened to me. Change in my life has become a daily thing.

But what I'm trying to say is that change is normal. Even if you don't like it, you will adapt. I know I did. It takes time but you will survive.
